Miller get away from them in Brooklyn, got away with several cartloads of stolen goods. They didn't even wait till it was dark, but worked in broad dayligh with the hum of voices in the police building alongside always within hearing.

The building is numbered 42 East Houston street. The store that was sacked is on the third floor. B. Light & Co. is the firm. Its specialty is trousers. Saturday the hands were laid off as the machines needed repair. This was the thieves' opportunity. The repairs were soon finished, and the workmen went away. In the afternoon, between 2 and 3 oclock some italian women came to deliver piles of groots. They were met on the stairs by a man who said that they could not go up. The robbers were evidently in possession then. At 5 oclock a boy employed on the top floor, coming down, saw Light & Co.'s door standing open. He to'd his employer, and the two, when they went home for the night, informed a policeman in the street. He reasoned so long as the street door was closed no harm could come, and he was right. The harm was already done. the current version. The story is that a man known as Hart, who professed to be employed in one of the city departments and to have a pull that enabled him to get candidates past the Civil Service Board and the Police Board, has disappeared with a lot of money collected from members of the force desirous of promotion and is said to be in Texas. One account puts his takings at $40,000 and further says that his price was $10,000 to sergeants in search of captaincies. done.

The hands in the store, going to work Sundry, found the door open, and the lock torn off.

Swerai hundred pairs of tropsers were gone.

Leon Bernheim, the superintendent of the concern, who reported the robustry to the police, said that the thieves must have used a warm to correct their plunder away. They could not possibly have managed 500 pairs of trousers without one.

Capt. McClusky is angry and his men are hunting the thieves with grim determination to do or die. $3,000 to roundsmen who would be sergeants $700 to patrolmen who would be roundsmen and $300 -the staple price of tradition-for men seeking admission to the force. He probably didn't get $40,000, but if the talk heard among Brooklyn policemen is anything but talk he did get a lot of money. The victims have discovered, it is said, that he was not employed by the city, as he represented. One version of the story is that a former Brooklyn policeman, now in business in this The five-year contract of appenticeship which

To the Friends of The Ladies' Home Journal

Within the past few days we have received several orders from the Central News Company for thousands of copies of the Christmas Ladies' Home Journal. We are unable to fill these orders, as the entire edition of the magazine is exhausted, although we printed 850,000 copies.

The News Company supplies the news-stands, and our inability to fill these orders will necessarily mean thousands of disappointed friends of the magazine. Hence, this explanation: With our present mechanical facilities we cannot print, acceptably, more than 850,000 copies each month. Nor shall we be able to increase this output for some months to come.

THE SAFE EXPLOSION AT HANCOCK. The Burglars Probably Blown to Piece and Burned in the Fire That Followed. MIDDULTION'S, N. Y., Dec. 4, Strong evidence has been produced that the burghers who blew open the safe in Howard's drug store at Hanook, N. Y. early on Saturday morning were blown to pieces in the shattered wooden followed, which consumed one whole block in followed, which consumed one whole block in which the store was located. The safe in the drug store contained $2,000, which was found intest. Tweaty pounds of dynamite is missing from the storehouse of Kliratrick's stone quarries, and no doubt exists that this amount was exploded. If it exploded prematurely, with the burglars near it, there would harrily be the slightest semblance of a human being left of them. The exclosion was of such great force that the whole back potting of Howard's drug store was blown out on the Eric tracks where a train was standing at the time. The loss is estimated at $50,000, and a reward of $500 has been offered for the perpetrators of the deed.

HELD FOR ABDUCTING HIS WIFE.

She Is Under 16 and Brower May Be Punished for Marrying Her. Beniamin F Brower, of 205 Newark avenue. Joraey City, who is accused by Mrs. Angela C. Wilsey of 55 Newark avenue, of abducting her daughter, Mabel, who is under the age of 10. had a hearing in the First Criminal Court yesterday morning. On Sunday morning Detective McNaily went to the Lehigh Valley Rail-road yard where Brower is employed as a brakeman and arrested him. Brower admitted that he had the girl at his home but sal I that they were married. He produced the marriage they were married. He produced the marriage certificate showing that the ceremony was performed on Nov. 22 by the Rev. William H. Ruth, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church.

Mrs. Wheev testified that Mabel would not be 16 until next June, and that she had never given her consent to the marriage. Mrs. Wileey fainted on the stand and was taken home in an ambulance. The bride testified that her mother had consented to the marriage instaugust, and Frank Toosey swore he heart Mrs. Wileey give her consent when Brower spoke to her about the marriage. Justice Potts decided to hold Brower for the Grand Jury and fixed the bail at $500. The statute under which he is being prosecute makes it a high misdemeanor to marry a girl under thelage of 16 without the consent of her parents or guardian.

ROUNDSMAN A RANK OR DETAIL. The Courts to Decide Finally a Point in Doubt Since the Charter Was Framed. The case of Boundsman Schelip is to be carried further. At the request of the Municipal Civil Service Commission the Corporation Garretson, made three weeks ago. Upon the issue hinges the status of the roundsmenthe issue hinges the status of the roundsmen. The question raised is whether they come under the evil service rules or are creatures of the Chief, detailed by him at will and doing his pleasure. The office of roundsman being the first rung on the ladder of promotion and the gate through which every one must pass to advance, the matter is of more than ordinary importance. If the Chief holds the gate any subsequent civil service test avails little. None can have but such as he selects.

Justice therretson held practically with the Chief in continuing the tenor of the charter. There is a strong opinion that holds to the contrary. The whole subject is so involved in contradictions that the Police Board has fought shy of it for nearly two years.

Coldest Weather of the Season.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The Weather Bureau issues the following special bulletin: "The coldest weather of the season is re ported this morning in the Western and Northported this morning in the Western and North-western States, with temperature zero to 10 and degrees below zero from northwestern Iowa over western Minnesota and the Dakotas, and snow throughout the States of the Ohio Valley and the Lake region. The lowest tempera-ture of the season will be experienced to-night in the Middle Atlantic States, with maximum about 20 degrees, and heavy frost will occur to-night to the Gulf and South Atlantic coas-ines. Tuesday will be cold and fair east of the Mississippi, after which the weather will moderate over the eastern half of the country."

The first severe and extensive cold wave of the winter is now spreading rapidly eastward from the Northwest. The creet of it yesterday was at the centre of high pressure over Minnessota and the Dakotas, where the temperature dropped twenty to thirty degrees in twenty-four hours and registered from 6 to 10 degrees below zero. The line of freezing extended from the centre of Vermont across northern New York to eastern Oblo and Tennessee. thence south to Alabama, thence west across Missis sippi and the Arkansas Valley to northern Texas from there northwest to Oregon, leaving but the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific States above freezing point. Frost was reported from the Gulf coast.

Schmeltzer, Mrs. Loch, Judius Lehrengaus, Dr. Joerg, Architect Daus, Louis Schulenberg, Miss Lundt and Col, John Rueger. betective Bureau, was inaccessible to news-paper men for a long time after Ammon was seen entering Hendquarters, and there were shallows on the glass of his office door which indicated that he was closeted with some one. When he was flushly seen he admitted that Col. Ammon had been a visitor at the De-tective Bureau, but denied that he had seen him.

"He came here on another matter," said Capt McClusky, "one that he had wanted to see ment out for a long time, but he had delayed attending to on account of the Miller case. He saw one of my men and I did not see the vestrymen of the Church of the Good Shep-berd, as Dr. Schienck sald she did, and thek down the names of his family. The Six has been informed by the Rey Dr. Dean Richmond, Rabbitt, rector of the church of the Epiphans, that Dr. Schenck erred in saying that it was the deaconess who called at his house—it was a parish visitor. Charges have been made by the rector of the Church of the Good Sheplerd that efforts were being made to induce patis-ioners of that church to transfer their mem-bership to the Church of the Epiphany.

Not the Deaconess, but a Parish Visitor.
